Belonging at Yale University Priorities

Cross-cutting actions
Yale is actively working to enhance diversity, support equity, and promote an environment of welcome, inclusion, and respect. These Belonging at Yale efforts are central to our commitment to excellence and our mission to improve the world. Infographic posters highlighting plans for individual schools and administrative divisions are available at belong.yale.edu.

Invest in and coordinate centers for research and scholarship: Yale supports the Center for the Study of Race, Indigeneity, and Transatlantic Migration, the Justice Collaboratory, and other centers of research and scholarship on race, justice, and equity, and has identified opportunities for collaboration among centers. The Center for Policing Equity, brought to Yale by Professor Philip Abdo Staff (Procurement) for services, supplies, and business professionals. Minority-owned and women-owned businesses to bid for Yale contracts. Yale has doubled the number of minority- and women-owned businesses, contractors, and professionals.

Invest in recruiting historically underrepresented faculty and post-doctoral mentoring:
Yale is actively working to enhance diversity, support equity, and promote an environment of welcome, inclusion, and respect. These Belonging at Yale efforts are central to our commitment to excellence and our mission to improve the world. Infographic posters highlighting plans for individual schools and administrative divisions are available at belong.yale.edu.

Engage Alumni: While Yale is actively working to enhance diversity, support equity, and promote an environment of welcome, inclusion, and respect. These Belonging at Yale efforts are central to our commitment to excellence and our mission to improve the world. Infographic posters highlighting plans for individual schools and administrative divisions are available at belong.yale.edu.

Require DEI/Inclusive Planning:
Yale has doubled the size of the Eli Whitney Students Program for nontraditional students and the number of entering undergraduates over the last five years, and in Fall 2021 announced full-need financial aid for admitted Eli Whitney Students. Yale has doubled the number of participants in the five family offices of Yale University, including six, and has given out $3 million in aid. Yale has doubled the size of the Eli Whitney Students Program for nontraditional students and the number of entering undergraduates over the last five years, and in Fall 2021 announced full-need financial aid for admitted Eli Whitney Students. Yale has doubled the number of participants in the five family offices of Yale University, including six, and has given out $3 million in aid.

Create staff leadership initiative:
Yale’s Talent and Diversity Initiative, a comprehensive package of diversity, equity, and inclusion programs, is working to change the culture.

Institutional Equity and Accessibility, which work with students, faculty, and staff to facilitate disability accommodations and remove barriers to full participation.

“...we are committed to making sure that all students, faculty, and staff have the resources they need to succeed. We must continue to build on our progress, and I look forward to working with you to achieve these goals.”

Peter Salovey, President