Belonging at Yale University Priorities

Cross-cutting actions

Yale is actively working to enhance diversity, support equality, and promote an environment of welcome, inclusion, and respect. The accomplishments and future cross-cutting actions in this graphic illustrate the university’s values in the areas of the Belonging at New Action Plan. These actions support Yale’s commitment to excellence and reason to improve the world. Graphically highlighting the work of individual schools and administrative divisions are available at belong.yale.edu.

Invest in and coordinate centers for research and scholarship

In the pages of the Bulletin and various reports, the university worked to develop a series of initiatives and tools to improve cross-campus collaboration.

President and Chris Argyris Professor of Psychology

Equitable scholarship, diversity, and finances

President and Chris Argyris Professor of Psychology

The strength of institutions can be measured, in part, by their willingness to confront their past openly—and act meaningfully on what they find...we have a blueprint for building a stronger, more inclusive, and more excellent Yale. I am grateful for all we have accomplished as a community so far and look forward to the critical work ahead of us...